

See. Learn. Experience!
So much more than a museum

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ABM, TILT TO HOST WINTER BREAK CAMP FEBRUARY 16-20

CLAYTON, New York (January 27, 2015) – The Antique Boat Museum (ABM), North America’s premier freshwater nautical museum based in Clayton, New York, announced today that it will host a science-themed camp during the upcoming winter school break, February 16-20.

This two-hour craft, reading, and special activity time from 9:30-11:30 a.m. will explore the science of boating. Each day, school-aged children will experiment and explore various topics, such as learning about local ecosystems and how to build simple machines that make our lives easier. Participants will have the opportunity to try building a model barge and see how much freight it can carry down the river or how much sail is needed aboard a sailboat.

This camp is being held in partnership with the Thousand Island Land Trust (TILT).

Each session is $7 per child for members and $10 for non-members; with a family maximum charge of $21 per family, per day. If interested in participating in all five days, ask about our discounted rate. Children under the age of 7 must have an adult stay with them.

For more information or to pre-register, contact Julie Broadbent at 315-686-4104 x235 or email at jbroadbent@abm.org.

– End –

About ABM

Located on the St. Lawrence River in upstate New York, the ABM features a collection of over 300 antique and classic boats, among thousands of recreational boating artifacts. The Museum is home to the world’s largest runabout of its kind and a 111-year old gilded-age two-story houseboat. In 2015, the ABM will host the 51st annual Antique Boat Show and Auction, the longest running such show in North America. For more information, please visit the Museum’s website at abm.org.

Contact: Michael J. Folsom, Director of Marketing & Communications
315.686.4104 x250 michaelfolsom@abm.org