

ABM Sailing School Parent Policy Agreement

As sailing instructors, we have an obligation to our entire sailing class to ensure that they all have the best sailing experience possible at the Antique Boat Museum. We promise to provide expert instruction and create an environment that is conducive to learning for all sailors. We ask that as a parent, you assist us in providing your child and our entire class with the best environment possible by agreeing to the following parent policy.

Thank you for your continued support,

The ABM Sailing School Staff

As a parent I agree to:

- Respect the times that class starts and ends. My child will arrive no more than 10 minutes before class and will promptly be picked up at the end of the class.
- Make sure that I drop my child off directly in the classroom area and check in with the instructors personally. If I cannot accompany my child, I will make sure that another adult does so in my absence.
- Not remain in or around the classroom area during class time and understand that parental presence during class can be distracting and detrimental to instruction. Please note that it is acceptable for parents to briefly stay for taking photos/videos of sailors.
- Guidelines for behavior in class that are conducive to a productive learning environment for all students. These include students being respectful of teachers, classmates and ABM equipment; listening and speaking in turn and as appropriate for a classroom setting and treating others as they would like to be treated.
